

HUGHES BOOM CAUSES WORRY

Roosevelt May Be Called on to Select an Acceptable Candidate.

Chicago, June 5.—Representatives of the several candidates for the Republican presidential nomination are in a perplexing predicament. Having fostered sentiment in favor of Justice Hughes until they felt sure Colonel Roosevelt was definitely eliminated, they now fear they cannot control the Hughes movement.

During the day it grew to the proportions of a boom. Effort is being made to concentrate all elements against it and the indications are that the veto of the Progressive party, which, of course, means Colonel Roosevelt's disapproval of Hughes, may be sought as a check.

Harmony above everything else is the desire of the leaders. Without it no nominee would answer the purpose because it is recognized that unless the Republicans and Progressives get together their choice of success at the polls is very slim. To obtain harmony, the Republican leaders are willing to give Roosevelt the power in some form. Some of the leaders say he should be willing to select one or two men who would be acceptable to him from the list of candidates in the field. Others think he would suggest men for consideration by convention leaders and practically all party chiefs are willing to admit that any of the candidates definitely rejected by Mr. Roosevelt could not be nominated.

Impartial observers within the Republican ranks do not consider that the unexpected growth of the Hughes boom is necessarily an indication of personal popularity of the justice among the delegates. Those who promoted it in opposition to what proved to be an exaggerated estimate of the expected demand for the nomination of Roosevelt were surprised at its growth. The individual candidates were working independently and therefore there was no canvass of the extent to which Hughes was the second choice of their supporters. This was found to be far more general than had been anticipated.

Hughes Sentiment.
With the arrival of hundreds of delegates today the sentiment in favor of Hughes reached high tide and in spite of the concentration upon him of the opposition forces, he appears to be far in the lead. Managers of the "favorite son" candidates have made no headway to combine against Hughes because he is the second choice of many of the instructed delegates and trading is dangerous. Every attempted transfer, it is feared, would result in spilling some delegates into the Hughes basket. Unless the situation changes very soon these delegates are almost certain to "flop" to him should there be more than two or three ballots without a nomination.

UTAH DELEGATES ARE TO CAUCUS

Chicago, June 5.—One of the outstanding features of the Republican national convention is the absence of commanding leadership by the men who compose the "Old Guard." They are here and on the ground, but they seem to have no definite control of affairs. Of all the favorite sons who will be presented to the convention none is to have the strength to command a stampede.

The Utah delegation opened its headquarters at the Auditorium hotel today with five of the eight delegates on hand. The non-arrivals being Senator Sutherland, Governor Spry and W. D. Candland. The delegation will caucus tomorrow evening to name committee members and elect a national committeeman. Delegate H. S. Joseph said today that he favored electing successor to Senator Smoot as committeeman. "These honors should be passed around," he said. "We have men able to handle that place and I believe in a new deal."

Mr. Joseph is the lone Roosevelt man on the delegation. The others here appear to favor Hughes and Senator Smoot still regards the justice as the logical nominee. The Wyoming delegation arrived here this morning and was met by Senator Warren, who came on from Washington. The delegation held a caucus today and elected John Hay, chairman; D. E. Hollister, committee on platform; C. L. Hinkle, credentials; Patrick Sullivan, permanent organization; Thomas Sneddon, honorary vice president; Ralph Denio, rules; George E. Pexton, national committeeman. John W. Hay, chairman of the delegation, said: "Our delegation will vote as a unit. If Senator Borah's name was to come before the convention we would vote for him on the first ballot."

SURVIVORS TELL OF BIG BATTLE

Men From British Cruiser Warrior Describe Terrific Engagement With Germans.

London, June 5, 2:30 a. m.—Survivors of the British cruiser Warrior who were landed at Devonport, say that the Warrior and the cruiser Defence steamed between two lines of German warships with the result that within a few minutes the Defence was blown into the air and the Warrior badly ripped. A storm of German shells exploding on the decks of the Warrior almost suffocated the crew with their gases.

When the Germans were at length driven off by British reinforcements the pumps were manned on the battered and sinking ship and succeeded in keeping her afloat until an auxiliary ship came alongside and took off the wounded. The auxiliary took the Warrior in tow for 48 hours when she foundered.

Sinking of Ships.
One of the officers of the Warrior told the order in which the British ships were lost. He said that the Lion, Admiral Sir David Beatty's famous flagship, led the battle cruisers into action and withstood a terrific bombardment. The Invincible was the first to go down, followed closely by the Indefatigable and a few minutes later by the Queen Mary.

British Naval Casualties.
London, June 5.—A total of 33v officers were killed in the Jutland battle, according to a list issued by the admiralty today. This list shows that practically all the officers of the cruisers Queen Mary, Invincible, Indefatigable, Defence and Black Prince and from the destroyers Tipperary, Turbulent, Fortuna, Ardent, Nomad, Nestor and Shark perished. All the officers except one from the cruiser Warrior were saved and all the officers from the destroyer Sparrow Hawk. On the other ships 23 officers were killed and 22 were wounded.

Sailors Owe Lives to Danes.
London, June 5, 4 a. m.—Five British sailors from the destroyer Shark, who saw their commander, with one leg shattered, fire his last gun as his ship sank, owe their lives to the bravery of Danish sailors. The Danish steamer Vidar, and the devotion of Danish and Norwegian nurses, who were on board the Danish ship. The women are believed to be the only ones of their sex who saw any of the survivors.

"We were coming from Copenhagen to London late Wednesday," said one of the Norwegian women, "when we saw a Zeppelin hovering far above us and then heard the booming of great guns. The next thing we saw was two blazing ships on the horizon and shortly afterwards we ran into piles of wreckage, amid which we found seven men clinging to a buoy, with hundreds of bodies floating around."

"In spite of the great danger from floating mines, our captain brought his ship close to the buoy and we heard one of the men say: 'We are alive.' Yes, they were alive in that sea of dead. Two died from exhaustion as we were just able to drag the others back from the edge of the grave. When we took them on board they were only able to utter the words: 'From Shark; 'Went down; 'battled.'"

BANDIT LOPEZ SHOT TO DEATH

Chihuahua City, Mexico, June 5.—Pablo Lopez, Villa's chief lieutenant in the raid upon Columbus, N. M., today paid the penalty for his crimes, facing a firing squad of Constitutional soldiers at Santa Rosa, Chihuahua's place of execution.

Lopez, who, at the orders of Villa, massacred eighteen American miners near Santa Ysabel, Chihuahua, in January and who is said to have directed the movements of the Mexicans at Columbus, expressed no regret. The big clock in the cuartel was booming 11 as he faced the firing squad. The officer in command gave the order to present arms. Lopez raised his head, smiled until his teeth showed and then looked directly at the soldiers, said:

"In the breast, brothers. In the breast."

All of the shots fired struck in or near the heart of the bandit, killing him instantly. As he leaped forward and fell motionless on his face, the customary final two shots of grace were fired. Although there were numbers of soldiers and citizens present, there was no disorder. Lopez left letters to his wife and to his father, saying that he hoped to meet them in the next life and urging them to believe that he was not a traitor to his country. "Since my country needs my death, I give it willingly," he said.

FEW AMERICANS AT NOTED BIRTHPLACE

Stratford-on-Avon, June 5.—Shakespeare's birthplace was visited by only about 23,000 persons during the past year as compared with 37,000 in the preceding year, and approximately 50,000 in years of peace. The diminution of visitors from America was most marked, only 264 having signed the register album as against 8000 the year preceding and an average of over 11,000 during the five years prior to the war. The pressure of the war also brought about a reduction in the number of admissions to Anne Hathaway's cottage and New Place.

The trustees of Shakespeare's birthplace at their annual meeting elected the Earl of Plymouth a life trustee in place of the late Lord Ronald Sutherland-Gower. Sir Sidney Lee, who presided, expressed the confident anticipation that American visitors would come in their ordinary numbers when the war was over.

RUSSIAN DRIVE 220-MILE FRONT

Bad Weather Halts the Heavy Fighting Around Verdun on Western Front.

Paris, June 5.—The long-expected general offensive of the Russians against the Teutons seemingly has begun. From both Petrograd and Vienna come reports that the Russians are actively engaged over a front from the Pripiet river, east of Brest-Litovsk, to the Rumanian frontier—a distance of about 250 miles.

The Russians everywhere are using large numbers of guns and men, and according to Petrograd, have achieved successes on many important sectors, taking 13,000 prisoners and a number of guns, and destroying or capturing Teuton positions.

Along the Bessarabian front, in the Dniester region, along the lower Stripa and in Vilhynia the Russian attacks have been very violent. In the region of Olyka, in the zone of the Volhynian fortress triangle, the Russian guns have shelled a front of more than fifteen miles in length, held by the Austrian Archduke Joseph Ferdinand.

Bad Weather.
Around Verdun bad weather has set in and as a result the infantry of both sides have kept to their trenches and only bombardments have taken place. No new changes in position are reported. Around Vaux and Damouville, northeast of Verdun, the bombardment on both sides has continued with intensity while to the west of the Meuse the shelling has been only intermittent.

On the remainder of the front in France, except around Ypres, the situation is reported quiet. About Ypres, however, the Germans and Canadians are continuing the violent fighting that has been in progress since last week when the Germans, under a terrific rain of shells, captured Canadian positions which later were re-taken in hand-to-hand and bombing encounters. Returning to the attack the Germans suddenly forced the Canadians to relinquish the bulk of the captured ground, but the Canadians are disputing strenuously the efforts of the Teutons to oust them from the remainder of their positions.

Vienna reports that notwithstanding the sturdy resistance of the Italians, the Austrians have made a further advance into Italy in the Cengio zone near Asiago. In the town of Chinea 500 prisoners, three machine guns and machine guns and 126 bomb-throwers were captured by the Austrians.

Rome admits the retirement of the Italians in the Cengio zone, but says that in the Dolgona valley, the Lagarina valley and on the Posna front Austrian attacks were repulsed with heavy losses.

In southern Albania, in the region of Avlona, the Austrians have dispersed with their artillery Italian detachments operating in that vicinity.

LONDON PAPERS SUM UP BATTLE

Post Calls Fight Momentous Victory for British That May Prove Turning Point of War.

London, June 5, 3:38 a. m.—The morning papers with fuller details available on the great naval battle, show no tinge of pessimism. The Morning Post calls the fight "a victory so momentous that the results may prove the turning point of the war."

The Telegraph thus sums up its account: "Immense forces of the second greatest naval power in the world have been driven to port as before some furious storm of vengeance. Though the British fleet was deprived by circumstances of the complete victory upon which it had set its heart, Wednesday's action has completely changed the naval outlook in every sea and ocean in the world."

First Trial of Strength.
The Graphic says:

"At the first real trial of strength the British navy has achieved a glorious victory, only robbed of its full fruit by the enemy's flight."

The daily News view is that the fight serves "to confirm the conviction that the German fleet is determined to refuse to come to action on equal terms."

The Express comments briefly that "Victors do not run away." Several editorials lament the misleading wording of the admiralty's first announcements. The Morning Post typifies this point of view in saying:

"The announcement was unfortunate, as the people drew the conclusion that the government was hinting at defeat, round, as was the fact, discreetly conveying the news of a magnificent success. The navy won a great victory and the admiralty announced it like a defeat."

Greatest Battle of History.
The outcome of the naval battle off Jutland is described in the morning Telegraph under the heading of "The Greatest Naval Battle in History" as absolutely favorable to the British.

The Telegraph says: "Whatever hopes the Germans have entertained of interfering with the allied control of the maritime communications of the world must be abandoned probably for the whole of this summer. The movement by sea of troops and their equipment will proceed with greater safety even than in the past. Thus, this action will directly contribute to the strength of the allied armies everywhere."

North Sea Conditions Improved.
"The conditions in the North sea have in particular been improved. There is almost complete assurance that there will be no flying visits to our coast from German battle cruisers."

The fast squadron of the German fleet is in no condition to make even a hit and run excursion to this side of the North sea.

"Although the British naval forces cannot relax their vigilant guard the possibility of the enemy endeavoring to interfere with the blockade may be dismissed for the present. The possibility of the invasion of England does not exist, temporarily at least."

"In the Baltic also the Germans can be in no condition to undertake an offensive for some weeks. Thus Wednesday's action has contributed to the further safety of the right wing of the Russian army rested on the gulf of Riga."

The naval battle off the coast of Jutland is claimed to have been a complete victory for the British by the naval expert of the Morning Post, who writes in this morning's issue:

German Fleet Chased Home.
The salient fact is that the German fleet was completely outfought, lost heavily and was chased in disorderly retreat into its ports. Admiral Jellicoe brought his forces to bear upon the enemy at a time and place chosen by him.

"The vanguard of the British fleet was composed of the battle cruiser squadron, supported by a squadron of four fast battleships. Behind this vanguard followed the main battle fleet. The German fleet adopted the same formation and the Germans lost one, if not three battle cruisers in the first part of the action, which was fought between the two vanguards of the two fleets."

Admiral Beatty's Strategy.
"Admiral Beatty, after engaging the German battle cruisers, must have turned away when the German battle fleet approached in order to allow the British battle fleet, which was also drawing near to engage. The armored cruisers which were following the battle cruiser squadron should also have turned aside, and if they had so it is difficult to see how three of them could have been lost. It is possible that, owing to some confusion, always likely in such circumstances, they went on, whereupon the approaching German battle fleet sent them to the bottom."

ARKANSAS STORM CLAIMS 100 DEAD

All Communication Crippled and Death List May Be Much Greater.

Little Rock, Ark., June 5.—Fifty-nine persons are reported killed and more than 100 injured in a series of tornadoes which swept Arkansas this afternoon. All means of communication are crippled and it is feared the list of dead and injured will be greatly increased by later reports.

The dead thus far reported are as follows:

Judsonia, White county, twenty-five known dead and fifty injured.

Heber Springs, eighteen dead.

De Lark, Dallas county, four dead.

Hot Springs, four dead.

Greenland, Washington county, two dead.

Storm General.
North Arkansas appears to have suffered most severely, although the storm was general throughout the state.

At Judsonia one third of the town was said to have been swept away. Twenty-five bodies and fifty injured already had been taken from the ruins at 10 o'clock, reports said.

The Little Rock dispatcher's office of the Iron Mountain railroad received a report that eighteen persons had been killed at Judsonia, White county, and that there are eleven dead at Heber Springs. Immediately after this report was received the wires failed. All other means of communication were cut off.

TORNADO SWEEPS HOT SPRINGS, ARK

Hot Springs, Ark., June 5.—At least four persons were killed and half a dozen others were injured seriously in a tornado which swept across Garland county late today and through the southwest portion of the city. The electric light and power plant here was put out of commission and tonight the city was without lights or car service. Many houses were demolished.

The dead:

DOC PARKER.

JIM BROWN, negro.

JAMES H. JORDAN.

The storm came from the southwest, touching the city first in the vicinity of Oaklawn. There a Methodist church was blown down. Then the wind crushed a few frame buildings across from the Oaklawn track entrance. Further on several small houses were lifted and crumpled until the wind reached the Majestic park, which is the spring training home of the Boston Americans. That was swept clean.

CRITICAL DAY FOR GARMENT WORKERS
New York, June 5.—Manufacturers of women's garments and the sixty thousand striking or locked-out workers in that trade, regard this as a critical day in the labor struggle over the open shop system. Some of the employers made preparations to resume operations today by beginning the making of samples in which it was said that five thousand workers would be needed.

To prevent the strikers, or others from going to work, Benjamin S. Singer, president of the Cloak Makers' union, said he would have 10,000 pickets on duty near the garment factories and, if necessary, would call out

ROOSEVELT IS URGED TO KEEP ON
Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 5.—Colonel Roosevelt made public tonight a letter received from F. A. Wurzbach, president of a bank in New York city, in which Mr. Wurzbach expressed the hope that "irrespective of what the G. O. P. does, you must not take a back seat, but permit the people to name you as their standard-bearer."

Mr. Wurzbach who said he was of German descent, asserted that the opponents of Colonel Roosevelt of German descent were few in number. Colonel Roosevelt replied to Mr. Wurzbach as follows:

"Nothing could please me more than your letter. Americans of German descent are—in an immense majority—straight-out Americans who put the Stars and Stripes above everything else. I would be absolutely willing to put my appeal for Americanism only to Americans of German descent and aside by their side."

Colonel Roosevelt also received tonight a telegram from Albert D. Norton, a Progressive leader of Missouri, in which Mr. Norton described the preparedness parade in St. Louis as a response to Colonel Roosevelt's plea for Americanism.

BERLIN STATEMENT DENIED.
London, June 5, 2:46 p. m.—The following announcement was made today at the British admiralty:

"No British destroyer, or any other British warship was destroyed off the Humber or anywhere else by a submarine or any other agency since the action of May 31."

Euryalus Not Sunk.
"The Euryalus was not in the North sea during this battle and therefore was not sunk by the German fleet."

"It would appear from the fact of these two false allegations being circulated by the German admiralty that they are anxious by any means to exaggerate the British casualties which already have been fully and completely announced."
